Knowledge in Motion 2016: Evidence-Based Care

Clinical Imperatives for Organizational Success

Wednesday, May 18, 2016  |  Eagle Oaks Country Club, Farmingdale, NJ
Clinical outcomes now make much more of an impact than on the patient alone. Hospitals are now held financially accountable and are much more at the whim of the marketplace. Educated consumers demonstrate their loyalty to organizations that perform at higher quality levels. The goal of this conference is to explore the best practices related to key areas that impact survival as an organization of choice for health care consumers… clinical imperatives.

Join us as we address multiple driving forces in today’s health care world that contribute to organizational success. Included among these drivers are:

- Succeeding at reducing infections in hospitals
- Learning from the best in population health management
- Unlocking the keys to patient engagement
- Building patient-centered transitions of care
